Make a date for Serena

BY NISHA MAL

editor@mk-news.co.uk

TWELVE hunks are baring all to help raise money for an organisation that is tackling domestic abuse after a city woman was murdered.

As previously revealed by MK NEWS, The Serena Hickey Foundation was set up by her brother Zane Hopkins after the 42-year-old from Emerson Valley was strangled by her boyfriend Darren Ellis at the Premier Inn in Kempston before he took his own life on a railway line.

Zane said: "I have always believed to educate, reform and offer help, not just to victims of domestic violence, but also to the people that commit it.

"I'm hoping that one day I can open up a Serena Hickey Foundation centre with the first one in Milton Keynes."

To help raise money for the foundation, which has already raised £1,800, Zane is posing as Mr January in Milton Keynes Sexiest Men 2015 calendar.

The calendar has been organised by Sarah Mawdsley, from Oakgrove, who co-founded ladies events company Eyecandi in 2012 with Danielle McKee, from Bletchley.

Sarah said: "We knew Serena well as she used to come to our events, she was lovely and really bubbly."

MK NEWS readers have been given the chance to choose which pictures appear in the calendar.

"We are hoping to raise £5,000 to qualify for a charity status so I'm hoping we can raise some of the money from the sales of the calendar," added Zane.

"Serena would've loved the calendar, she would've been all over it as she was cheeky like that.

"If anyone had said give me a name of a potential victim of domestic violence I would never have said my sister. She was powerful and independent – at least that's what I thought."

The calendar is due to go on sale next month.

Parents fork out £28m on school costs

CITY families are spending more than £28million on the most basic items for their youngster's schooling, according to research by the Children's Commission on Poverty.

Parents are forking out, on average, £778 per child each year for school clothing, sports kits, school meals, trips, books, materials for classes, stationery, computers for homework, travel to and from school and summer clubs or activities.

The research also found that 17,485 Milton Keynes families are struggling to keep up with these costs – leading to many children missing out on opportunities schools can offer and facing bullying and embarrassment.

The Children's Commission on Poverty, a panel of children aged 10 to 19 from across England, supported by The Children's Society, spent the past few months investigating the costs of primary and secondary school in the state sector.

Matthew Reed, chief executive of The Children's Society, said: "Children are supposed to be benefiting equally from a free education, yet the reality is that families are paying millions of pounds each year towards the cost of school.

"Children are being denied their right to an equal education because their parents cannot afford the basics."

Taking on a challenge: Mark Smith will take on his first bodybuilding challenge after losing his right leg three years ago

Bodybuilding amputee takes on challenge

AN INJURED serviceman is set to take part in his first disability bodybuilding event – three years after losing a leg.

Mark Smith, 29, of Walnut Tree, was in the Grenadier Guards when he lost his leg in 2011 on a pre-deployment exercise in Canada.

This Sunday he will be competing against three other competitors at Margate Winter Gardens in front of more than 800 people.

While Mark is looking forward to competing, he said: "I'm the only debutant on the night and it's just a learning curve. Hopefully I will learn stuff that I can take on to other competitions."

Slippery slope for food hygiene

BY JACK ASH
editor@mk-news.co.uk

THE general manager of the restaurant at SnoZone has assured visitors it is working to resolve its low food hygiene rating.

Snozone received one star from food hygiene watchdogs the Food Standards Agency, which means that 'major improvement is necessary'.

The indoor skiing venue's general manager, Kyle Bell, insists that it has done all it can to fix the problems recorded at the restaurant.

He said: "Following the inspection we were devastated to discover that our rating had fallen. It is of the utmost importance to us and required an immediate response.

"The food and beverage manager was replaced and I was appointed as the new general manager. We are confident that all necessary corrective measures were met straight away and if visited now by the authorities, the restaurant will once again achieve the five star rating held previously."

The company was marked down for failing to fill in paperwork.

A look to the future: An artist's impression of what Brooklands Secondary School could be like

New school for 1,500 students

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

A NEW school is being built in the east of the city that will eventually cater for up to 1,500 pupils.

Brooklands Secondary School will see pupils from years seven, eight and nine join in September 2016, with GCSE and A-level students attending three years later.

The Fen Street facility will be a welcome boost to school place provision in the city.

In January, MP Mark Lancaster told MK NEWS that rising birth rates and a growing population mean thousands of school places will need to be created to cope with demand in future.

The new build will act as an extension of Walton High, based in Fyfield Barrow, Wavendon Gate, which has been working with Milton Keynes Council as part of the authority's Expanding The Best programme.

The scheme was started last year and aims to create more school places by expanding existing, successful schools rather than building new ones.

"The overarching design focuses on simplicity, sustainability and education spaces, which will create a high quality learning environment," said Walton High vice-principal Sharon Alexander.

There will be state-of-the-art science laboratories at the school, as well as dining areas, specialist technology for workshops and classrooms, drama, dance and music spaces and sporting facilities, including a sports hall and an all-weather pitch.

No plea entered for attempted murder

A MAN who has been charged with attempted murder has yet to enter a plea.

Kieran Fowler, 23, of Luton, was also charged with wounding with intent.

His father, Alan Fowler, 48, also from Luton, was charged with wounding with intent.

The charges relate to an incident on Sunday at Rowditch Furlong, Newport Pagnell, where 42-year-old Stuart Levitt suffered serious head injuries. Both men were remanded in custody after yesterday's hearing at MK Magistrates' Court and are due to appear at Aylesbury Crown Court on November 3.

Father and son, 6, missing

A FATHER and son who have been missing for three weeks are causing police 'concern'.

Steven Allen, 39, and his son Alexander, six, were last seen in Newton Road, Bletchley, on October 6.

They were reported as missing to police on Sunday, with the force saying it is 'concerned' for their whereabouts as family and friends have not heard from them, which is said to be out of character.

It is thought that Steven and Alexander may be in Kilburn, North London.

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Managing Director Billy Harley feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 5 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Bedford, Milton Keynes & Leighton Buzzard areas and Billy is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

So, if your windows are steamed up, broken or damaged give Billy a call for a free quotation on 0800 61 21 118 and he'll be happy to help!

Remember the fallen

ONCE again this year on November 11 at 11am, people all across Milton Keynes and the nation will stop for two minutes to mark the moment 96 years ago when the guns fell silent in the First World War.

Since that time the day has become a poignant time to remember people who have fallen in that and subsequent conflicts.

The Royal British Legion, which does so much for those currently serving in the armed forces, ex-servicemen and women and their families, will, over the coming weeks, be doing a great deal to raise their profile and funds, including selling poppies.

The poppy was the first plant to spring to life on the battlefields at the end of the First World War. Since that time it has been synonymous with fallen soldiers and is used worldwide as a demonstration of respect to men and women who made the ultimate sacrifice.

On November 11, across the whole of the country, wreaths will be laid at memorials to the fallen, including in Milton Keynes.

Milton Keynes has many local centres with memorials where dignitaries will meet to pay their respects. The Milton Keynes mayoralty will be represented at events in Wolverton, Newport Pagnell, Bletchley, New Bradwell and Stony Stratford.

So in the coming weeks when you see poppies on sale, I would encourage everyone to make a donation and to wear a poppy with pride to honour and support brave men, women and their families who have sacrificed so much to defend the freedoms we all enjoy.

Mayor Derek Eastman

Gear up for Speedway

I'D LIKE to offer my congratulations to the Milton Keynes Knights speedway team after their Midlands Development League title win (MK NEWS, October 22).

This is a fabulous achievement and it's just a shame that it was achieved 70 miles away in Mildenhall.

I have read with interest in this newspaper about the possibility of the Knights returning to the city and hopefully this success will boost the chances of that happening.

Speedway would be an excellent addition to Milton Keynes' already thriving sporting scene.

We have the Dons going well in League One and next year the Rugby World Cup, the third biggest sporting event in the world, will be arriving.

Last weekend it was great to see the Milton Keynes Lightning bring ice hockey back from Coventry and it would be fantastic for the Knights to ride in as well.

So come on powers that be, get the wheels in motion for another sporting homecoming.

Mark's Monthly Focus

It's time for the public to decide about EU

THIS week's surprise demand from the EU that the UK should pay a £1.7billion tax for our economic growth is an outrage and I'm delighted that the PM has ruled out paying it.

Why should the UK be supporting failed European economies that have not taken the tough decision that we have over the last few years?

It simply underlines why last week I supported the EU referendum bill in Parliament because I am clear that the democratic consent for Britain's membership has worn thin – this demand is just the latest reason why.

Now more than ever people want a say over our future relationship with Europe. The EU is changing and these changes raise a series of fundamental questions about the future of the EU and Britain's place within it.

While some may want to bury their heads in the sand, these questions are not going away and I remain convinced we should be playing a leading role in shaping the debate.

The Conservative Party's preference is to enact these changes for the entire EU, not just for Britain. But if there is no appetite for a new Treaty for us all, then Britain should be ready to address the changes we need.

Only the Conservatives have a plan for Britain's settlement in the EU – to undergo a renegotiation of this deal so that it works for Britain, and to put the outcome of that renegotiation to the British people in an in-out referendum by the end of 2017.

In his speech to the Conservative Party conference, the Prime Minister made clear that taking back control of immigration will be at the heart of his renegotiation strategy with Europe.

Now, let me be clear, I believe that the UK has benefited from an immigrant workforce but the 'open door' approach that the last Government encouraged must be brought under control.

With both Labour and the Lib Dems opposed to giving the people of Britain a say, at the next election the choice is clear; if you want a referendum on whether Britain should remain in the EU or leave, only the Conservative Party will guarantee to hold one.

I have always been a Euro-sceptic since my days of running a manufacturing business, welcoming free trade with Europe but suffering from the burden of European directives and legislation.

I've always believed the true test of membership of the EU was whether it provides significant benefit to the people of the UK which is why in 2009 I voted against the Lisbon Treaty because I did not believe it was in my constituents' interests. Last week's events simply underline my view.

Equally I believe that there are other elements of EU membership that have benefited the UK, such as the free movement of goods and the promotion of free trade. These were the original objectives our partnership with the EU brought and ones which we must protect in the interests of Britain.

With so much mutual benefit in trade, I do not buy the argument that to leave the EU would end all trade especially at a time when our global non EU trade is increasingly so rapidly, if its works for Switzerland, Norway and Iceland, why not us?

I simply believe that now is the time to stop and take stock of our relationship with the EU, renegotiate a new deal that ensures national sovereignty is maintained on the key issues that affect us and most importantly, once that renegotiation is done, it's the British people who must decide our future relationship with Europe.

Bailey meets Ed Sheeran

MILTON Keynes College student and Britain's Got Talent star Bailey McConnell met Ed Sheeran backstage on his tour.

The rising superstar not only got song writing tips from Ed at his concert in Birmingham on Sunday, October 19 but also told him about The Henry Allen Trust – a charity close to the teenager's heart.

Ed signed some leaflets for the charity, which is raising money for children with cancer after four-year-old Henry Allen lost his battle with neuroblastoma a year ago.

In the picture shared on social networking sites Facebook and Twitter Bailey commented: "Chatting to Ed about my man Henry last night #teamhenryforever."

Bailey, 15, from Crownhill, is releasing his first EP called Memories next month but fans have already been pre-ordering copies on his website. On his Facebook page Bailey said he would be hand delivering EPs to a couple of lucky residents.

The singer-songwriter shot to fame after appearing on ITV's Britain's Got Talent earlier this year.

As previously reported by MK NEWS thousands of girls turned out to meet him when he performed at intu Milton Keynes in May.

OAP breaks hip during robbery

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A TEENAGER who robbed a 79-year-old woman caused her to fall and break her hip during the cowardly attack.

The elderly woman was walking along McConnell Drive in Wolverton, near the junction of Church Street, when she was approached by a boy.

He pushed her and then pulled at her handbag, causing her to fall to the floor and break her hip. He then stole her handbag before running away – leaving his victim injured on the floor.

The OAP was taken to Milton Keynes Hospital following the incident last Tuesday afternoon.

Investigating officer PC Christopher Bigg, from Local CID at Milton Keynes Police Station, said: "The victim has been left extremely shaken by this incident.

"I would appeal to anyone who witnessed the robbery or recognises the description of the offender to come forward.

"If you have any information, please contact the Thames Valley Police Enquiry Centre on 101, it could help bring justice to the victim, who has been in hospital with a broken hip as a result of the incident.

"If you don't want to speak directly to the police you can contact Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111."

The offender has been described as white, in his teens, of average build, about 5ft to 5ft 1in, with short hair.

He was wearing a dark hooded jacket and dark trousers.

The black handbag contained cash and pink glasses with gold on the side and top of the frames.

A Hallowe'en to haunt residents

Crystal Curios: Ian Dunmore with one of his spooky friends at the entrance to his shop in Little Brickhill

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

THIS Hallowe'en we have dug up the city's spookiest places to visit and talked to witches who bubble beneath the surface.

On Saturday more than 1,000 zombies will be taking over Stony Stratford in the annual pub crawl.

The walking dead will invade pubs along the High Street and places like the new restaurant Smoke Shack will be opening late to offer zombie-themed food and drink.

Other spooky places where residents can scare themselves silly include The Cross Keys Pub in Woolstone, which has experienced paranormal sightings since it was built in 1560.

Bury Field Common in Newport Pagnell is also thought to be haunted and is nicknamed 'ring o ring o roses', because people who died from the Black Death are buried there.

MK NEWS went down to Ian Dunmore's Crystal Curios Emporium in Little Brickhill, which sells everything weird and wonderful – from human skulls to Ouija boards – delivered to customers by hearse. Mr Dunmore himself experienced some spooky goings-on after he disturbed a witch's voodoo mask.

This paper has also unearthed a culture of witchcraft and Paganism, which has been practiced in the city for the last 20 years.

Today there are around 680 witches according to coven chief High Priest Nick Woodley from Bletchley.

Perfect pumpkins: Kaleb Bird, three, and Jacob Bird, seven, at Hunters Farm Shop in Little Brickhill where the fruit is sold

Scam company directors jailed

A TOP judge has blasted 'catastrophic failures' after hundreds of work permits were handed to a city firm that led to more than 170 immigrants coming to the UK.

The court heard how the UK Border Force, then the UK Border Agency (UKBA), handed out 117 certificates of sponsorship to Techsense UK Ltd, which was based in Caldcotte, over three years – despite being warned by one of its own inspectors that the company could be a front for a massive immigration scam.

The company was awarded a licence to grant visas after claiming to have lucrative IT contracts with Microsoft, BT and the NHS. This led to 55 visas being issued to people supposedly travelling from Pakistan to work for the company. It was estimated that more than 120 family members and dependents were also granted visas to join them in the UK between 2009 and 2012. Many of those who travelled over actually ended up working in fast food restaurants and supermarkets.

In extraordinary scenes at Oxford Crown Court on Friday furious Judge Peter Ross hauled one of UKBA's most senior managers into the witness box and demanded he explain the debacle.

Answering him, George Shirley, the head of UKBFs sponsorship unit, said it has since tightened its checks.

A Techsense director, Rashid Ghauri, 42, of Grable Avenue, Oxley Park, pleaded guilty to three counts of fraud and money laundering and was jailed for six years.

Fellow director, Ali Junejo, 35, of Mercers Drive, Bradville, was found guilty by a jury of two counts of fraud and money laundering and was jailed for six-and-a-half years. The pair were also banned from being directors of any UK company for 15 years.

£3.5k to remove illegal travellers

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

THE Parks Trust has had to foot a £3,500 bill after travellers illegally set up camp at Furzton Lake car park, which had to be closed to the public.

Rob Riekie, head of operations at the trust, said it was landed with the bill for repairs to the car park locks, which were broken by the travellers, extra staff hours to clean up the site and bailiff fees.

He added: "We don't tolerate any unauthorised encampments on our land so after twice being formally requested to leave, and then subsequently failing to do so by specific times, eviction proceedings were escalated to an assisted removal.

"The eviction last Tuesday, assisted with by bailiffs and police, took approximately one-and-a-half hours.

"We then blocked off the car park entrance while we undertook a clean up and repairs.

"As a self-financing charity the additional work, the nuisance and the expense is an unwelcome drain on our resources and budget."

The car park reopened at the weekend.

Cider makers: Richard Smith and Laurence Consibee

Getting to core of best festival cider

AN ORCHARD beat off stiff competition to land a coveted award for its cider.

Woughton Orchard was announced as the winner in the best cider category at the CAMRA Concrete Pint festival last week, with its Number 7 West Country-style cider beating others from that area.

Richard Smith, 32, of Bletchley, has helped run the orchard since 2007.

He said: "I was shocked to beat other West Country ciders. It felt good."

Al-Qaeda's mag is found in cell

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

A TERRORIST magazine published by Al-Qaeda was kept under the noses of city prison guards 'for years', a court has been told.

Younis Tsouli – a convicted extremist dubbed 'Terrorist007' – was caught with a copy of notorious Al-Qaeda publication Inspire.

The 31-year-old Moroccan national allegedly hid the November 2010 edition of the magazine in a bundle of legal papers in his cell at HMP Woodhill.

The magazine even name-checked Tsouli himself in an article listing Muslim prisoners.

Other sections in the issue included a letter from the editor, which hailed 9/11 as 'a blessed operation', as well as guidance for sneaking bombs onto planes.

For more on this & updates
Visit www.mkweb.co.uk

Tsouli appeared in the dock at the Old Bailey this week to deny possessing a document likely to be useful to persons preparing acts of terrorism.

Prosecutor Alex Chalk told the judge: "The issue for you in this case is whether the defendant had a reasonable excuse for possessing it."

When he was asked about the magazine, Tsouli said: "It's part of my legal papers. I've had it for ages."

The case continues and is expected to end this week.

HOW TO AVOID PAYING 40% TAX ON YOUR INSURANCE PAYOUT

Benjamin Franklin once made the famous quote that "The only two certainties in life are death and taxes." Whilst I cannot disagree with his first point at the time of writing this article because there isn't yet a known cure for dying, I do take issue with his second point. Well at least as far as Inheritance Tax is concerned. You see Inheritance Tax is truly a voluntary tax as was explained in my article last week.

Did you know that many people including most people reading this article are unwittingly giving away large sums of money to the government? If you have a life insurance policy and or a critical illness policy and you haven't written it into trust then on a claim the proceeds form part of the recipients estate which means that when they die they will have to pay Inheritance Tax at a rate of 40% on the money if their estate is already worth at least £325K!

We know someone who recently claimed £221,967 under a critical illness insurance policy when he was diagnosed with cancer. He is aged 55. He had failed to put his policy into trust in spite of being recommended to do so. His estate will now be liable to £88,787 Inheritance Tax. The tax would have been totally avoidable had he written the policy into trust!

Tony Byrne
Chartered and Certified Financial Planner

Do you have a life insurance policy that isn't written into trust? Do you work for an employer and have death in service benefits (life insurance) and you haven't nominated a trust to receive the payout if you die prematurely?

In all of the above cases there is a high chance you are throwing money away to the taxman and not giving 100% of your insurance claim to your loved ones. Is that what you want?

Whatever your desire we are here to help by giving you clear, unambiguous advice in plain English so that you can find a solution that is tailor made for you.

We offer a great cup of coffee too!

Warning to parents after teen attacked

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

POLICE are issuing advice to parents and teenagers after a man attempted to rob a 14-year-old boy.

The teen was walking on a footpath between Melrose Avenue and V4 Watling Street near the railway bridge in Bletchley when he saw a man leaning against a fence.

The man pushed the victim and punched him in the stomach, causing him to fall to the ground.

The offender attempted to get the victim's wallet out of his shirt pocket, ripping it in the process. The boy kicked the man who then ran off empty handed.

Police have released an e-fit of the man they would like to speak to, who is white, aged 20 to 24 years old, about 5ft 10in and skinny.

He had a black eye and two eyebrow piercings and was wearing a large hooded top.

Following the attack, officers have also issued the following advice:

Search: Do you recognise him?

- When possible young people should travel in groups.
- If they are on their own they should keep to main routes and avoid shortcuts or unlit areas.
- Wear shoulder bags with the strap over both your arm and head. Listening to personal music players (MP3, iPods) and large hoods on coats can distract you.
- Don't walk and talk – using your mobile phone not only distracts you, but it also makes you an easy target for a thief.
- Avoid passing stationary cars with their engines running and people sitting in them.
- Register your valuable items at Immobilise as this helps the police to recover them if they are stolen.
- When you are being attacked let go of your bag instead of getting hurt trying to hold onto it.
- Shout and scream as loud as you can. This will alert people who may be able to help and may scare the offender.
- Consider buying a personal attack alarm as when it sounds a robber is unlikely to continue an attack.
- Try to get a description of the attacker and tell the police immediately.

If you have any information about the attempted robbery, which took place at 4pm on September 22, or recognise the person in the e-fit, call police on 101.

Players: Eden Jefferson and MK's mayor Derek Eastman

BY JESSICA DUNCAN

jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

AFTER months of anticipation the Milton Keynes edition of Monopoly has finally hit the shelves.

More than 6,000 people voted for what landmarks should be on the board, but following the launch at intu Milton Keynes on Friday, players were left scratching their heads over some of the choices, including why National Trust Stowe in Buckingham had made it onto a yellow square.

Graham Barnes, publicist for Milton Keynes Monopoly who said they 'were spoilt for choice' when designing the board, commented: "In the end we threw the monopoly dice to decide.

"We did think long and hard about this after people voted for it. It is a few miles away, but it has an MK postcode and lots of city schools go on visits there. It is the closest national trust estate."

Free parking is also now available for residents – but only on the board.

Mr Barnes added: "I think in not so many years time the only place in the UK where you can park for free will be on a Monopoly board."

Questions were raised after the iconic concrete cows and Willen Lake, which are looked after by The Parks Trust, appeared on the two brown spaces – the cheapest squares on the board.

But Liz Woznicki, the trust's communications manager, said: "We are really happy that Willen Lake and the concrete cows feature and are Rowena Brown: "It appears the squares were decided on sponsorship rather than relevant places in Milton Keynes. A bit disappointing."

John Dowell: "I'd expect to see MK streets or estates here, not tourist attractions and sponsors. How do you build properties on the concrete cows or MK News?"

Martin Theobald: "I'm surprised 'jail' didn't get sponsored by Woodhill."

Staying on: Stuart Burke and Gladstone McKenzie won't resign. Subhan Shafiq was not available

'No reason to resign'

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

TWO of the three councillors who have been urged to resign over the taxi licence scandal have said they will remain in office.

Two petitions calling on Subhan Shafiq, Stuart Burke and Gladstone McKenzie to stand down as ward councillors were handed in at a council meeting last Wednesday – with over 200 signatures.

Cllr Shafiq resigned as mayor after giving a character reference to a convicted rapist, while Cllr McKenzie and Cllr Burke resigned from the licensing and regulation committee that approved the driver's licence. But neither feel they have any reason to resign from the council.

Cllr McKenzie told MK NEWS on Monday: "I haven't done anything wrong.

"I stepped down from the licensing committee, that was where the problem was. There was nothing else to resign for."

Share your views on this www.mkweb.co.uk

Cllr Burke added at the meeting: "There is little point in me resigning when I am up for election next May. I have no intention of resigning because I don't think we want to waste money on a by election."

But one member of the public at the meeting shouted: "We'd rather pay to be honest!"

Another, Julie Baines, said: "There are so many people who feel they should resign and force a by election."

Cllr Shafiq did attend the meeting, but failed to respond to any calls from MK NEWS.

‘Make sure you lock your door’

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

RESIDENTS are being urged to lock their doors to stop burglars being able to easily get into their homes.

The reminder from police comes after two burglars were able to walk into homes through unlocked doors.

Andrew Ryan, 35, and Jamie Woodley, 26, both of Haddon, Great Holm, were each jailed for three years after pleading guilty to two offences of burglary at Aylesbury Crown Court last Tuesday.

They raided properties in Calverton Road and Horsefair Green, both in Stony Stratford, on September 19 after entering the homes through unsecured doors.

In Horsefair Green, the pair were challenged by the occupant once they were inside and left empty handed, but they stole jewellery from the property in Calverton Road.

Detective Constable Chris Oakman, from Milton Keynes CID, said: “I’m pleased that two burglars are now behind bars and I hope that this sentence will serve as an appropriate deterrent.

“The burglars took the opportunity to enter properties through unsecured doors.

“I would like to remind residents it is important to ensure doors are properly locked.”

The mechanic who

Reporter JAMES AVERILL speaks to the army mechanic who joined the Gurkhas when he served in Malaysia

Jungle war: Paul in the 1950s

PAUL Richards admits that 'it's not really normal' for someone to write their first book at the age of 81 – but his tale of jungle war more than justifies the long wait.

As he welcomes me into his home in Two Mile Ash, one of the first things he shows me is his kukri – the famous inwardly curved knife used by the Gurkhas who he served with more than 60 years ago.

In 1951 Paul sailed from Liverpool for a month and ended up spending a year attached to the 2/2nd King Edward VII Own Gurkha Rifles (Sirmoor Rifles), during the Malayan Emergency.

His book, Better A Friend Than A Foe, details how he became friends with some of the most feared fighters in a guerrilla war between Commonwealth forces and the Malayan Communist Party (MCP).

"The MCP did then what ISIL do now," Paul explains.

"They would think nothing of burning a bus full of civilians to terrorise them. It was a very dangerous war."

During this time, in which he helped to look after the vehicles the Gurkhas were using, he had to adapt to a different way of life if he was to be accepted by them.

"I was called into the office of Lt Cl Cruickshank, who had served with the Gurkhas for 35 years," says Paul.

"He gave me three pieces of advice. He told me to learn their language, eat their food and respect their religion.

"He said if I did that – which I did – I would have no better friend than the Gurkha.

"I would eat goat curry with my bare hands squatting down and they would laugh when I spilt it all down me!

"I had to kill the goat sometimes with the kukri and I learnt enough of the language to get by. I think they respected that."

Paul, who has two daughters and three grandsons, lives with partner Jean, having originally hailed from London. He hopes the book about his time in the army can 'record another piece of history' and inspire older people who were signed up for national service to share stories with their families.

He's also keen to see more help given to the Gurkhas.

He adds: "I'm signed up to the Gurkha Welfare Trust.

"These old men have to make their way down the Himalayan mountains, a three day journey, to pick up a small military pension. I think they deserve more."

Better A Friend Than A Foe is available to buy from £5.50 at www.amazon.co.uk.

'IMMENSE' DAMAGE

MILTON Keynes councillor John Bint, pictured above, believes the Pineham Motocross Track public inquiry has damaged the relationship between the authority and The Parks Trust.

As ward member for Broughton, which covers Pineham, he has sided with residents on the issue, who believe the track is too noisy, but he thinks there are wider repercussions.

He said: "The damage done by The Parks Trust disputing this decision will be immense."

Briony Fox from the trust said she didn't think the inquiry would affect the relationship.

Paul Herbert, who lives in Tuffnell Close, Willen – 250 metres from the track – said: "The noise from the site is extreme. In summer you can't plan when to go in the garden."

TRACK SHOULD STAY

ILLEGAL motorcycling could take place in the city if the Pineham motocross track is shut down, according to The Parks Trust's head of community engagement Briony Fox, pictured below.

She has been speaking at a public inquiry, which took place for three days last week, and says the track needs to stay open as it offers a different form of leisure activity for people.

"The Parks Trust is here to provide a range of provision to accommodate different interests," she told MK NEWS. "If there is no official place for people to go and ride their motorbikes we will go back to the position where people are riding their bikes illegally and causing hazards to other park users."

The site is licensed to motocross track firm F-15MX and owner Martin Wright said: "There are social and wellbeing benefits for kids so it's important."

MOTOCROSS FACTS

- MOTOCROSS derives its name as it is a mix of motorcycling and cross country
- The sport is a form of off-road motorcycling held on an off-road circuit
- Races usually last for 30 minutes and when the leader crosses the finish line after that time period, he is usually told that there are two laps left
- It first evolved in 1909 from trial competitions put on motocross?

Unhappy: Andrew Herbert, Jeff Temporal, Paul Herbert and Sarah Wilson who live near the site

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

A PUBLIC inquiry took place last week to decide the future of a motocross track.

The Parks Trust, which owns Pineham Motocross Track, and Milton Keynes Council have been locked in a bitter battle for more than a year over whether the motorcycling sport should be able to take place at the site.

Under current regulations the site is classed as 'amenity parkland', but 28 days a year it can be used for motocross without planning permission.

But a meeting of the council's development control committee in September last year found that mounds on the site had resulted in it being changed so it could be used as a motorsports track.

As a result it was deemed that operations were illegal and an enforcement notice was served by the council requiring the removal of the track and for the site to be restored back to parkland.

The Parks Trust appealed against the notice, arguing motocross helps offer a variety of leisure activities for people to take part in and that when racing isn't taking place, the site is still available for recreational use.

Milton Keynes Council, Campbell Park Parish Council and The Parks Trust will meet again on December 1 to present their concluding notes to planning inspector Gloria McFarlane.

Older footballers to enjoy walking pace

BY JAMES AVERILL
james.averill@mk-news.co.uk

OLDER men can now find an easy way back into the beautiful game as a 'walking football' club has been set up at Woughton Leisure Centre.

Make a Difference (MAD), a charity based at The Buszy, is recruiting new players in order to grow its weekly session, which is a slower paced version of football in which running is penalised as a foul.

It has been set up in the city by Stuart White, a community programmes manager with MAD, who was inspired to make a difference himself by a TV advert.

He said: "I have been working alongside Milton Keynes Council organising some 'Get Into' sessions, which encourage people to become more active.

"But the idea also partly came from a Barclays' TV advert, which shows walking football and it was great seeing a sport that we all love reinvented.

"We want to get more turning up so that we can maybe start some fixtures against other sides in the region, or maybe even start a league ourselves.

"It can be aimed for people over 50 who haven't played in many years and want to get back into it, but it's open to all ages.

"There are younger people who may have been seriously injured playing and it's good for them to get back into it."

One of those taking Stuart up on his offer is 61-year-old Les Ridgway. He said: "I hadn't kicked a ball about with other adults for 30 years, just my grandchildren in the garden. I really enjoyed it, we had a great laugh and you feel like you've had a workout after."

The sessions run on Thursday evenings from 8-9pm at the centre in Rainbow Drive.

The first session is free and after that it costs £3 per week.

For more information call MAD on 01908 231312.

On the ball: Stuart White has set up walking football sessions, which helped Les Ridgway, 61, play football again after 30 years

14,000 sweet treats: Aspley Guise Junior School is among those helping Dabinder Hutchinson, below, set a new Guinness World Record for the longest line of cupcakes

Ready, steady, bake

BY JESSICA DUNCAN
jessica.duncan@mk-news.co.uk

A FUNDRAISING group wants its very own Great British Bake Off after discovering another organisation is attempting to beat the same Guinness World Record on the same day.

Cakes for Kids was set up 12 months ago by Dabinder Hutchinson from Woburn Sands to raise money for three charities.

The group needs support from schools and residents to bake at least 14,000 cupcakes using the same recipe, which will be placed in a line at the centre:mk on Friday, Novemeber 14 in a bid to beat the current record of 606.6 metres set in Colombia.

But this week Mrs Hutchinson, 45, discovered BBC Radio Gloucestershire is also hoping to 'bake the record' on the same day – starting 30 minutes later.

She said: "At first the team were disappointed that after 12 months of hard work we now faced a competitor.

Want to get involved? Find the cake recipe at www.mkweb.co.uk

"However, we then saw the funny side of this and we now want to have our version of the Great British Bake Off with Milton Keynes vs Gloucestershire. Let's both raise as much money for Children in Need."

As previously reported by MK NEWS, Cakes for Kids is not only raising money for Children in Need but also Milton Keynes Hospital's Leo's Appeal and two-year-old Neve Lund, who suffers from cerebal palsy.

The radio station has told this newspaper that it has accepted the challenge.

Breakthrough relief for back pain and sciatica

IF YOU suffer from low back pain and sciatica, you are one of over 20 million adults in the UK with this often crippling spinal condition.

Shooting, stabbing and burning pains from the low back, sometimes with additional pain through the buttocks and down the legs are all symptoms of a pinched nerves often called "sciatica".

In severe cases, it can lead to muscle wasting, numbness and constant tingling down to the tip of the toes. Left untreated, the intense pain can rapidly wear you down and drain the joy out of life.

That is, until now...

Recent advances in the treatment of sciatica and lower back pain have led to the development and huge success of Non-Surgical Re-Constructive Spinal Care.

The excellent results of this treatment have been published in major medical journals. With success rates as high as 90% some back surgeons recommending their patients try this treatment first before having back surgery.

Because the treatment is non-surgical, safe and easy, most patients report an almost immediate relief from their pain.

Patient Jeff P. from Cambridge says, "My back pain was unbearable but the worst thing was the searing burning pain I felt in my buttock and leg.

I couldn't work or do anything useful and the drugs my GP prescribed hardly did anything.

My wife insisted I respond to one of these ads, I thought it would be a total waste of time, but I'm so glad she kept on at me.

Thank god I called your number, I'm 95% better in just a couple of weeks."

All Aboard for better bus travel

BY SARAH LEE
editor@mk-news.co.uk

WHEELS were put in motion for a nationwide competition to drive our buses into the 21st century when a minister visited a city school.

Transport Minister Baroness Susan Kramer is challenging tech-savvy students from across the UK to devise new ways to make bus travel easier for people who have visual or hearing impairments.

The All Aboard competition, which was launched at Milton Keynes Academy on Friday, is being run by the government-funded Transport Systems Catapult, based in the city.

Baroness Kramer said: "Audio and visual announcements on buses are especially helpful for those who are visually or hearing impaired.

"We want to tap into the creativity we know is alive and kicking in our classrooms to find ways which we can make transport more accessible.

"The children of today have brains – brains in which technology is a part of their everyday life. It would be silly not to use their fresh and innovative ideas."

Competition entries need to be submitted by February 13 to www.theallaboardcompetition.co.uk/entries/ and then a number of shortlisted entrants will be invited to present their ideas to a judging panel. The winner, who will receive £1,000, will be announced in March.

Meanwhile, Shadow Education Secretary Tristram Hunt visited Water Hall Primary Hall School last Wednesday because of its performance in English and maths. The Labour MP visited the Lakes Estate school after meeting headteacher Tony Draper at a conference.

He said: "Water Hall has shown that it can produce outstanding results even if young people come from disadvantaged backgrounds.

"I want to see new school places in areas of need."

School place deadline

PARENTS and carers can now apply for school places for children who are due to start school, transfer into Year Three, or move up to secondary school next September. Those moving to secondary school need to apply by Friday, while others have until January 15, 2015. Read more at mkweb.co.uk.

More pupils at Howe Park

AFTER years of being oversubscribed, Howe Park School has expanded to offer more places to pupils.

A new building extension that opened in September meant the school in Emerson Valley was able to have 90 children in its foundation class – which is an extra 30 youngsters.

Pupils and staff celebrated the expansion last week with a special assembly and played on the new playground equipment for the first time.

Milton Keynes councillor Norman Miles, cabinet member for children and lifelong learning, said: "This school has been oversubscribed in the past so I am pleased to see the new extension completed.

"This will allow more children in the area to attend their local school."

Youngsters go off to war

War: A pupil at Two Mile Ash

PUPILS stepped back in time to find out what life was like during the Second World War.

Year Six students at Two Mile Ash School experienced first-hand what it would have been like to be a child of war by pretending to be evacuees as part of a history project.

A soldier actor involved the children in role play and the teachers also dressed up as 1940s military personnel to help pupils learn more about the war during the event last Tuesday.

A Year Six pupil said: "It was really interesting to know how it felt being a child during the war.

"The soldier that came in was really fun and helped us learn about gas masks and weapons that were used."

Parent Survey October 2014

Once again, we started the school year by trying to give our children as many new experiences and opportunities as possible. We invited the Animal Experience team into school with their array of exotic animals. The children in Year 6 were able to observe and hold snakes, spiders and stroke a real Meerkat. The children asked many thoughtful questions and most were even brave enough to hold them.

In Year 3 a pot of VERY hungry caterpillars appeared and the children were fascinated to watch them eat until they could eat no more. Then making their way to the lid, they changed into chrysalises; each stage was carefully recorded. The children have also been doing observational drawings of live locusts and investigating the differences between wasps and bees and how honey is made. As well as undertaking bug hunts in the playground

Year 4 have been studying about food. They have made fruit kebabs and created their own healthy smoothies. They have been looking at how food is grown and how many miles the food on their plates may have travelled. Great fun is being had in science lessons looking at reversible and irreversible cooking experiments.

Year 5 have been investigating healthy lifestyles and have produced their own fitness CD. This has involved developing their own fitness routine, which has been filmed and then edited and will be premiered to parents soon. They have also made 3D moving models of an arm, so they can see how the muscles work in pairs.

'Bringing out the very best in our children & young people'

Walton High@Brooklands

Planning is now well under way as Walton High works in partnership with Milton Keynes Council on its 'Expanding the Best' programme which will see the building of a new secondary school on Fen Street in Brooklands.

Wates Construction working with Jestico + Whiles architects and Ares Landscape architects have been working closely with both MK Council and staff at Walton High to develop a facility to serve the new community of Brooklands. As the illustrations show, the new school has strong architectural design and provides a visually stimulating and contemporary style appropriate for such a landmark location. More importantly, designers have spent time with Walton High staff to develop an understanding of the key education drivers, vision and curriculum requirements that are so much part of Walton high. The result is that the overarching design focuses on simplicity, sustainability and education spaces which will create a high quality learning environment.

Planned to open to Years 7, 8 and 9 students in September 2016, the school, an extension of Walton High, will offer state-of-the-art accommodation including bespoke science labs, dining areas, specialist technology workshops and classrooms, drama, dance and music spaces and a range of sporting facilities including a full sized sports hall, all weather sporting pitches, and a range of summer sports and athletics provision.

For more information and updates on the progress of this exciting project, please visit our website www.brooklandsmk.org.uk

Debating Competition

On the 17th October, Walton High hosted the first round of the schools parliamentary debating competition which is organised by the MP for Milton Keynes South, Iain Stewart. For the first year, all schools eligible to take part in Milton Keynes are participating in the competition which means there is more opposition for Walton High.

There were a range of debates taking place on the night but the best was saved for last as Walton High year 12 students Matthew-Lee Friend and Idil Ali prepared a strong argument against the motion 'given the state of Britain's national debt, it is no longer feasible to ring-fence the NHS budget'.

After a brief interlude for the judges to make their decisions, it was finally announced that Walton High won their debate and will therefore be participating in the next round of the competition. Both Matt and Idil were understandably delighted and looking forward to the possibility of debating in the House of Commons if they successfully make it to the final. Despite this prospect, both students are focusing on the next round of the competition but should be proud of their success and performances on the night.

Walton High Post 16 Open Evening

On Thursday 27th November we will be holding our Post-16 Open Evening from 6pm to 8pm which provides an opportunity to welcome prospective Post 16 students for enrolment in September 2015.

Visitors will be able to meet the Subject Specialist Post 16 teaching team as well as talk to current students. Presentations at 6.15pm and 7.00pm in our state of the art Venue from the Director of Post 16 will provide an overview of the Programme on offer as well as the entry requirements and application process.

Please contact our Post 16 Administrator on 01908 558766 if you require further details

New Vocational Sixth Form Course in Milton Keynes

Arts1 School of Performance is proud to announce as of 2015 it will be offering a full time vocational course in Musical Theatre to 25 students per year. The fully funded course includes professional training in dance, drama and singing and successful students will receive a BTEC Level 3 Extended Diploma which is equivalent to three A levels.

The new Musical Theatre course will be taught from The Box Studios in Linford Wood Milton Keynes, a specialist performing arts facility. The brand new building is equipped with two music rooms, two large dance studios furnished with sprung floors, air conditioning and mirrors, a versatile performance space and a growing library of performing arts books and industry publications.

Previous graduates of Arts1 School of Performance at The Box have gone on to study at drama conservatoires such as Mountview Academy, London Studio Centre and the Arts Educational School. Hopes are high for this full time intensive training course, which will offer local talented youngsters an even better chance a securing a place at these competitive drama schools and FE institutions.

James Grimsey, Creative Director and Musical Theatre Course Leader says, "We are absolutely thrilled to be able to offer this BTEC to our current students and other aspiring performers in the area. Myself and Rebecca Carrington, the Principal of Arts1 identified a growing need for full time industry training for school leavers in the Milton Keynes region, and what better place to hold the course than our brand new venue at The Box. Its specialised performing arts facilities are the perfect training ground for local talent, and our teachers boast first-hand industry experience and expert coaching in each discipline."

The Musical Theatre vocational course offered by Arts1 includes 20 hours plus per week of contact time, and includes a range of full scale performance opportunities. Students will be trained by subject specialists, many of whom still perform themselves and stay on top of industry developments, such as the cutting edge Estill vocal training programme. The course also includes an intensive audition preparation week, where industry figures and casting directors will prime students for their dance and drama school auditions in year two.

In addition to the outstanding professional performing arts training and industry prep, Arts1 School of Performance is recognised by the Council for Dance Education and Training (CDET). This means students can 100% trust the high quality of training offered and the course will effectively prepare them for a career as a performer.
James added, "There are other schools and colleges in the area who offer a similar qualification, but our course is set to be recognised locally and nationally as a centre of excellence for post-16 training. Our vocational sixth form is the only industry facing course in the region and the unique course design and quality of staff and coaching is what will define it. Our team have unrivalled experience in equipping students with the skills they need to progress to the UK's leading performing arts institutions. Student progression is key to us, as is the ability to sustain a career in the Performing Arts industry"

Arts1 School of Performance will be holding an open day for anyone interested in the Musical Theatre BTEC course on 8th November. Click here for more information and to book a place.

IF YOU'RE struggling to recall the 1960s, you were either there and high as a kite, or you weren't born.

Roger McGuinn, former Byrds' frontman and founding member, will be putting all that right at The Stables, Wavendon, on Saturday at 8pm. Era defining classics such as Turn, Turn, Turn, Eight Miles High and All I Really Want to Do, as well as recollections of working with the likes of Bob Dylan and Tom Petty, make for a fascinating evening. Find out more at www.stables.org

FROSTS Garden Centre's chief executive JAMES FROST gives his expert tips on how you can keep your garden in top condition as winter begins to bite. Read it in full at www.mkweb.co.uk

WITH winter on the way there are several steps you can take to keep your garden healthy.

Now is time to raise up planted containers on the patio with pot feet to aid drainage.

You may also want to invest in either a roll of fleece or individual fleece jackets to protect more vulnerable plants that you want to look after for next year.

Tulip bulbs can still be planted either in containers or in the border to give you a mass of colour next spring.

On another note any corms or tubers, such as canna, dahlia or tuberous begonia from your summer display, should now be lifted and stored in a dry, frost free environment.

Dust with green sulphur to prevent any mildew damaging them.

The dormant season is ideal for planting hardy plants so their roots get established before next year.

Alongside this any mature plants that need pruning can be done now to bring them back into shape. Remove some flowering wood or take out dead, diseased or damaged growth. The only exceptions to the rule would be tender and evergreen plants.

dirtydancing

PHEW! That's a relief. Over at MK Theatre nobody's managed to put 'Baby' in the corner yet.

If they so much as tried it, millions of women would be up in arms. The lip-smacking, spine-tingling Dirty Dancing daydream sees Frances 'Baby' Houseman, a goofy kid in sneakers, get swept up by brooding hunk in black, Johnny Castle. Though the dance pro has a reputation for being mad, bad and dangerous to know he is actually strong, sensitive and most of all he CAN DANCE!

There are nods in the direction of civil rights, feminism and a woman's right to choose but Dirty Dancing is, at its beating heart, the ultimate feel-good, romantic adventure.

And put like that, how can you not like it? You can't. And you certainly can't fail to love the delightful performances from Roseanna Frascona, as Baby and Gareth Bailey as Johnny, and the Dirty Dancing leg work from Claire Rogers as poor old up-the-spout Penny. As entertainment goes, you can't beat 'the summer we went to Kellerman's'. Visit atgtickets.com/miltonkeynes

THE Maze Runner certainly stands out from the crowd with gripping action, compelling performances and a dark undertone to rival The Hunger Games.

This post-apocalyptic tale follows Thomas who wakes up in the centre of a large maze inhabited by a gang of boys with no memory of who he is. Everything changes when he ventures into the maze, becoming the first to survive a night outside the walls.

For a film based on young adult fiction The Maze Runner is dark and perilous with plenty of mystery to constantly propel it forwards.

Dylan O'Brien as Thomas delivers the right amount of chemistry with each character and there's a strong line-up in the young supporting cast.

Merely relying on the events in the maze to tell the story leaves the whole affair too simplistic but glaring omissions aside, The Maze Runner is still expertly put together and the talents of the rising young cast bode well for the 2015 sequel.

sleepyhollow

WE ALL know the film starring Johnny Depp, but Sleepy Hollow is now a TV series and it's definitely an entertaining watch, writes Scott Kirk.

Dark is definitely the word to describe this show and if you're easily scared by demons and ghouls then this might not be for you. But if you are a fan of the otherworldly, you'll love it.

There's a real chemistry between the two main characters – Ichabod Crane and Abbie Mills – and they are played wonderfully by Tom Mison and Nicole Beharie.

I find the horror genre a bit too serious at times, but I love the lighter moments.

The second series of Sleepy Hollow is on Universal (Sky channel 113) every Wednesday at 9pm.

Olney beat table toppers

IT'S eight defeats out of eight for Bletchley as their struggles in South West One East continued with a 42-12 humbling at Newbury Blues.

Bletchley have accrued just five points so far this season, but they have a huge opportunity to break their duck this Saturday when they entertain Reading, who lie only two positions above bottom placed Bletchley in 12th.

Milton Keynes have also had a miserable start to the season as they succumbed to a fifth loss of the campaign in Southern Counties North to remain second from bottom.

They were comfortably beaten 60-15 by table toppers Stow-on-the-Wold, but they also have a chance to achieve a rare success when they travel to Wallingford this weekend, who are just one place above them.

However, it looks like there's no stopping Olney as they knocked Wellingborough off the top of the table with an impressive 20-0 victory.

Olney really turned the screw on the league leaders and it was their dominance in the scrum, which has worked well for them all season, that helped them to their first try.

From the scrum, the ball was moved quickly from Ollie Caplin to Jack Sutton and he fed through Ollie Simons to Will Edwards on the wing who ran in a try in the corner.

The conversion attempt was just wide but the opening score put the home side in the lead, 5-0 after 25 minutes.

After a couple of driving mauls, Jonny Munday chipped the ball into the visitor's in-goal area and followed up to touch down minutes later, and the conversion meant that Olney went 12-0 up.

From the kick off Olney counter attacked and a great carry by Charlie Belcher took the ball to the visitor's 22.

Jon Brice received the ball and made a great run down the right hand touch line when he received a kick to evade the Wellingborough team, and he went over in the corner to put Olney 17-0 up and in dreamland.

Munday kicked a penalty before half time, and while there was no score in the second half, Olney could be proud of a superb victory.

Olney are still fourth in South West One East after their latest success, and travel to bottom club Peterborough this Saturday.

MK Dons Head of Coaching RICHIE BARKER writes for MK News

WE DREW 0-0 on Saturday against Doncaster Rovers, and with ten minutes to go you probably would have said it was a fair result.

But in those last ten minutes we arguably had some of the best chances of the game.

It's yet another clean sheet for us so that's great.

It's strange that we've got a good point at Doncaster and we've dropped three places in the table, but when you look at the bigger picture we've played four out of our last five league games away so now we've got a number of home games coming up, and on the road we've picked up some good points.

We like to look at things points-wise and performance-wise and we've lost two in our last 11 league games, so it's about continuing that form now.

We were really pleased with Tom Flanagan on Saturday and his attitude in training has been spot on.

He comes to me regularly for the extra stuff and it's been tough for him to break into the team because of Kyle McFadzean, Antony Kay and Jordan Spence being there, but he has always made sure that if he gets his opportunity, he has been in the best position to do well – he keeps doing all the right things so that's good.

Our biggest aim this season is success in the league but I think that we have all seen that an element of success in the cups is great.

• Chelsea and Manchester United drew 1-1 with each other on Sunday and I know it's early doors, but I would say that the Premier League title is arguably Chelsea's to lose.

They're playing so well and they've got a very good squad with some excellent players there, so I'm sure they were kicking themselves at conceding so late in the game.

Man United were back to their old tricks in scoring extremely late, and it was a game between two very good teams with world-class players in both of them.

First victory in new home as double winners are downed

ICE HOCKEY

LIGHTNING head coach Nick Poole said he was very pleased with his side's back-to-back victories this weekend, which included the first success in the team's new MK Arena home.

Poole's men saw off last season's double winners Basingstoke Bison 6-4 to claim a victory at the second attempt in their refurbished rink, following defeat to Sheffield Steeldogs on opening night.

Milton Keynes were second from bottom of the English Premier League and Bison were second before the game, but Lightning came up with a great performance.

On Sunday, MK boosted their chances of qualifying for the semi finals of the English Challenge Cup with a 7-4 victory at lower league Chelmsford Chieftains – recording their first four point weekend of the season. It put them joint top of their group.

"I believe that we're a good team and I was really pleased with this weekend," said Poole. "It has been such an unsettled year that it's been really tough.

"We're definitely starting to get more used to the new rink and we're relieved to have won our first game there – we deserved to win."

The 6-4 win against Bison didn't come without some drama though as Lightning saw a 4-1 advantage at the end of the second session evaporate in just over five minutes early in the final period.

Milan Kostourek had opened Lightning's account and Petr Horava doubled the lead. Horava got a second before Ciaran Long brought one back but Leigh Jamieson made it 4-1 to Milton Keynes.

A resurgent Bison then hit back with three goals from Joe Greener, Grant Rounding and Miroslav Vantroba to set up a grandstand finish.

Kostourek was hit by a ten minute unsportsmanlike conduct penalty in the final minute of the middle period and that proved significant as the Basingstoke goals all came while he was in the sin bin, necessitating line reshuffles. Once he returned though, the hosts regained control of the game.

Jordan Cownie and then Kostourek fired home to restore Lightning's cushion and this time there was no way back for the visitors.

The highlight of the downing of Chelmsford was a hat-trick by Ross Bowers – a player who has found it difficult to find a regular line spot this campaign.

Fans have also been buoyed by the announcement that former Lightning enforcer Chris Wiggins has returned to the team from Bracknell Bees – filling the spot left vacant by the departing Tom Carlon. Wiggins is due to make his debut this weekend.

Lightning travel to Swindon Wildcats today, before entertaining Guildford Flames on Saturday and travelling to Peterborough Phantoms on Sunday.

Anguish as Blades double up late on cross from the right hand side, and Marc McNulty got his feet slightly wrong with an opportunity which only just whispered wide of David Martin's post.

Both sides were looking to get on the front foot when they went forward, and the quality of play in the middle of the park showed why both sides were in the top seven in League One.

It was a huge opportunity for the sides to progress to the quarter-finals of the competition, with only Shrewsbury Town ranked lower in the football pyramid out of the 16 teams still left at the start of the night, and it was clear from early on that both teams were hungry to progress further in the Capital One Cup.

Dons' Dean Bowditch worked his magic down the left hand side, but his cross was too far for Dele Alli, while the 18-year-old had tentative shouts for a penalty turned down when he tried to lift the ball over an opponent's head.

Darren Potter was pulling the strings for Dons in the middle of the park, and his ball forward looked easy enough for the keeper. But the Capital One Cup top-scorer Afobe wouldn't give up the chase, forcing Mark Howard to spill the ball, and it was with a hint of misfortune that a free kick was given against him for an infringement on the keeper.

The teams were cancelling each other out, and the first half was perhaps typified by Robert Harris's free kick for the visitors, which was lofted forward to absolutely nobody in the Dons box, leaving a grateful Martin to gather up the ball.

Flanagan had a half-chance when he got two bites of the cherry at a header from a Ben Reeves free kick, but his second attempt provided an easy enough save for Howard.

Reeves played a beautiful, angled ball forward just before the interval, but Afobe tried to take a touch rather than shoot first time, and the keeper was given an easy enough job of gathering up the ball.

There was just about time for Alli to be blatantly fouled on the edge of the box, which referee Roger East didn't give, as a forgettable first half was brought to a close.

Control: Ben Reeves composes himself

The second half began with an old-fashioned goalmouth scramble in the Dons box which began with Jamie Murphy having a shot blocked.

Cue madness as tackles flew in, but Dons just about cleared the danger to avoid conceding a goal straight after half time.

United had come firing out of the blocks, with Murphy rasping one shot wide.

But on 51 minutes came a shocking miss by the visitors. The cross was whipped in and it had defeated everybody. All Stefan Scougall had to do was head the ball into the back of an empty net, but somehow he missed to the relief of the stadiummk faithful.

A couple of forays forward for Alli brought a couple of corners for Dons as they looked to get back into the game following United's good start after the interval, but both chances went by the wayside. Bowditch danced past two players as the clock ticked past the hour mark, but his low shot was way too easy for Howard to gather as Dons looked to find the breakthrough.

Afobe opted to shoot when Samir Carruthers was in acres of space on the right hand side a few minutes later, and the game had the feeling that extra time would be needed.

But that prospect looked more remote when Dons took the lead on 67 minutes. The previously ineffective Carruthers was the man who started the move off as he dribbled into space, and he threaded a great ball through to Alli, who was scythed down in the box by Craig Alcock.

The Blades defender was only booked for a challenge which could easily have seen him sent off, and Afobe sent the keeper the wrong way to grab his sixth Capital One Cup goal of the season.

Dons put in some good defensive work straight after the goal to snuff out any possibility of Sheffield United going forward, while Dean Lewington produced a great cross which deserved better than a Blades boot being on the end of it.

The next defensive duties Dons had to carry out were in the 83rd minute when Jamal Campbell-Ryce produced a fantastic cross, and Harris' cutback could only find Potter, who cleared.

But a minute later, United were all square. Harris came up with a great cross, and Higdon headed beyond Martin to give the visitors parity.

The game had exploded into life, and Alli hit the post after Afobe threaded the ball through to him, before Jay McEveley headed away a cross with Afobe and Daniel Powell ready to pounce.

Arsenal loanee Afobe rounded five players as the game approached injury time, but his shot was too weak, and Howard gathered the ball up.

But there was late heartbreak when United scored three minutes into injury time. Martin completely missed the corner when it came in, and sub Higdon was on hand to smash the ball into the back of the net to end Dons' magnificent run in the Capital One Cup.

DONS

Flanagan: 'Sitting on bench is the worst thing'

DONS defender Tom Flanagan believes he has given manager Karl Robinson a selection headache after producing an impressive performance in the 0-0 League One draw at Doncaster Rovers.

The 23-year-old centre half came in for the injured Kyle McFadzean at the Keepmoat Stadium, and produced a man of the match display on Saturday, according to his manager.

Flanagan is now hoping that he can gain regular starts in future games, and he got the nod for last night's Capital One Cup tie with Sheffield United.

"There's a lot of competition and I got lucky with Kyle McFadzean getting injured," said Flanagan after the draw in Yorkshire.

"It's football, people get injured and you have to be there to take your opportunity.

"I feel I've taken my opportunity and now I've left it in the manager's hands to decide what he wants to do.

"Hopefully I've given him a headache which is what I wanted to do because I want to play every week.

"Sitting on the bench is the worst thing about being a footballer.

"You spend all week working hard and then on a Saturday you watch people work hard – it's the worst thing ever but that's part of it.

"I'm learning and in my position if you make a mistake they score a goal, so it's all about experience and I'm trying to gain that.

"I'm pleased and you always hope for a personal good performance."

From a team perspective, Flanagan said he was happy that Dons had got another good point despite it meaning that they have now dropped out of the play-off positions and gone down to seventh in the table.

"We're ecstatic with a clean sheet away from home and I don't think there will be many that come here and do that, so it stands us in good stead for the rest of the season," he said.

As well as being good at the back, Flanagan had a chance in the second half to win the game for Dons when he thundered his shot against a post, and he admitted that he thought his effort went in.

"I was right behind it, but it just hit the post flush," he said.

"I thought it was going in and I'll admit that I did have a little celebration but it didn't quite nestle in.

"I'm looking to get a goal this season and it would have been nice to get it this early but it wasn't to be."

Meanwhile, the draw for the first round of the FA Cup took place on Monday night.

Dons were drawn away at League One rivals Port Vale, and will play them over the weekend of Saturday, November 8, depending on whether the tie is moved for television.

MILTON Keynes racer Jeff Wyatt followed up his 2013 GT Cup GTA Championship win by brushing off his challengers at the final race meeting over the Cheshire Oulton Park circuit last weekend to claim the 2014 title too.

The final two sprint races saw Wyatt claim fourth and third place finishes, which was enough to allow him to claim back-to-back class titles.

The overall championship winner was Jim Geddie in a McClaren MP4-12c on 510 points, with Wyatt also claiming third place overall on 477 points in his BMW E46 M3.

NON-LEAGUE FOOTBALL

In Division One, Olney Town thumped St Neots Town Youth & Saints 8-0, with Deanio Bailey-Browne and Jamie Burrows bagging a brace apiece as new manager Steve Kuhne got off to the perfect start. Grant Burrows, Daryl Smith and Dean Torto also got in on the act, while Harley Kelly scored an own goal.

Stony Stratford Town beat Edgware Town 4-0 in Division One of the Spartan South Midlands Football League. In Division Two, Wolverton Town beat Clean Slate 4-2, Willen lost 4-1 to New Bradwell St Peter and Old Bradwell United were defeated 3-0 by The 61 FC (Luton).

A heartbreaking end to a historic League Cup run

CAPITAL ONE CUP FOURTH ROUND
MILTON KEYNES DONS 1
SHEFFIELD UNITED 2

BY SCOTT KIRK
scott.kirk@mk-news.co.uk

DONS' adventure in the Capital One Cup was brought to a gut-wrenching end last night as Michael Higdon struck twice inside the closing stages to fire League One rivals Sheffield United through.

Karl Robinson's men thought they were heading into the last eight after Benik Afobe's 67th minute penalty but the Blades' late show ensured their run in the competition ended on a disappointing note.

It means there will not be a second dream tie after the historic 4-0 victory over Manchester United in round two in August.

"It's disappointing," said Dons boss Karl Robinson. "We switched off for two goals. Silly errors cost us."

Dons also beat rivals AFC Wimbledon in this year's cup so their run will always be spoken of.

"There have been wonderful moments," said Robinson. "It's sour how it's gone but we can't win them all."

Both teams looked lively at the very beginning, and in the third minute Afobe almost connected with a ball over the top from centre back Tom Flanagan, who came in for Antony Kay in the line-up on account of the former Huddersfield Town defender being on four bookings this season, with one more yellow card enough to earn him a one-match ban.

United had the first real chance in the 12th minute w hen Ben Davies delivered a superb

Sacrebleu! Hunt for second title in Superseries ends with final defeat

BADMINTON husband and wife duo Chris and Gabby Adcock – the Commonwealth mixed doubles champions – fell short of a second BWF World Superseries title after being beaten in the French Open final.

The world number five pair, who are based at the National Badminton Centre in the city, lost out to Indonesia's Tontowi Ahmad and Liliyana Natsir, the three time All England champions, as they were easily beaten 21-9 21-16 in 33 minutes.

"It was a tough final," said Gabby afterwards. Annoyingly we didn't play great today.

"We started to find our way in the second set but it was a bit too late. We are both disappointed."

The Indonesians, the number three seeds in Paris, raced away with the first game after opening up a 10-2 lead.

The English partnership, who reached last year's French Open semi-finals, briefly took the lead in the second at 8-7.

But their talented opponents leapt into action and held advantage to take the match.

Peter Jeffrey, Badminton England coach, said: "Overall we are disappointed with the level we brought today, but we are happy with the improvement from last week to this and we will continue to build on that."

The Adcocks, who won a Superseries title in Hong Kong last year, had enjoyed a superb run in Paris after exiting in the first round of the Yonex Denmark Open the previous week.

Chris and Gabby had survived two match points against Dutch opposition in the last eight, before coming through in thrilling fashion against Denmark's Mads Kolding and Kamila Juhl in three games in the semi-finals.

The next test for the husband and wife partnership will come at next month's China Open, which starts on November 11.
